

1. Small? Grant valued below threshold (spring 2020: $130K)

2. Done in One

The application phase results in the final award value.
FEMA does not adjust approved amount.
Close Out is often done during the application process.
All required documents must be submitted first.

3. Benefits

FEMA

Low risk, reduced costs

Applicant

Reduced effort over time

4. Risks

Applicant

Underfunding is possible - missed costs
Can not ask for more money

The Subrecipient may request additional funding if the total actual cost of all of its Small Projects combined exceeds the total amount obligated for all of its Small Projects. In this case, the Subrecipient must request the additional funding through the appeal process, described in Chapter 3:IV.D, within 60 days of completion of its last Small Project.<sup>344</sup> FEMA refers to this as a net small project overrun appeal. The appeal must include actual cost documentation, as detailed in Tables 8 and 10, for all Small Projects that FEMA originally funded based on estimate amounts.

Citation: FEMA Public Assistance Policy Guide v3.1 2018, page 145